

Supply list for Acrylic Class with Melissa Gannon

Paints: (these are only suggested—You basically need red, yellow, blue and white) (the craft acrylic paints will work if you don't want to buy the more expensive acrylic paint. Look for a red, red, a blue, blue and a yellow, yellow.)

I use:

Quinacridone Magenta

Ultramarine Blue

Turquoise (Phthalo),

Hansa Yellow Medium

Indian Yellow

Transparent Pyrrole Orange

Titanium White

Pyrrole red

Quinacridone red

Quinacridone azo nickel gold

Teal

Any other colors that interest you.

Brushes:

1.5 inch wash brush (you can use a foam brush instead) This size brush is good to have for big canvases.

half inch flat brush (I've been using the angled flats recently)

3/4" angled flat brush —optional

A small brush to sign your name

A middle sized round brush if desired

Rubber gloves if you want to paint with your fingers.

- Acrylic Glazing liquid (optional) (I'm actually using airbrush medium but the glazing liquid will work)
- Paper plates for a palette
- Paper or canvas (watercolor paper works for this as well, I gesso it first)
- Water containers
- A piece of foamcore to use as a support for your paper or canvas
- A rag or paper towels for wiping your brush
- A sponge for texture (natural sponges make more interesting texture) optional
- Pencil (I've been using a pastel pencil lately because it disappears when I paint over it)
- Eraser
